WHO WE ARE

The Scuola Superiore per Mediatori Linguistici of Padua, already known as Scuola per Traduttori e Interpreti, is recognised by the Italian Ministry of Education, University and Research MIUR (Ministerial Decree 24/09/2003) and grants a three-year degree in TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETING. This degree allows students to progress to a master degree course in Conference Interpreting, Literary Translation and Technical and Scientific Translation.

Our university course provides the knowledge interpreters and translators require. It conveys exhaustive skills, even at a sectorial level, for highly qualified linguistic mediators.

WHERE WE ARE

The SSML of Padua is situated in the historic centre of Padua, within walking distance to the well-known Prato della Valle and Basilica of Saint Anthony, just a few steps away from the main university accommodations, canteens, libraries and other services, and is served by the main bus and tram lines.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

As a result of focused course modules and specific programmes, the SSML of Padua guarantees the ideal competencies for future professionals who will enter a highly globalised and competitive labour market.

Our curriculum trains graduates who are able to work autonomously, in the field of international relations in public and private companies, bodies and institutes, as well as freelance linguistic mediators.

Here some examples of career opportunities:

- Technical and scientific translator

BRANCHES OF STUDY AND COURSE CATALOGUE

Traditional course

The basic or traditional course curriculum is aimed at strengthening the oral and writing skills of the languages and learning the essential knowledge required for intercultural and linguistic mediation.

The course aims to provide students with a higher level of strong cultural and linguistic basis in at least two languages, as well as Italian language and culture. Moreover, it develops both oral and written specific technical and linguistic skills, fundamental to any job in the area of linguistic mediation.

Fashion marketing and trends

This three-year Fashion marketing and trends degree aims at providing students with specific notions in the field of Fashion and Costume, as well as a strong cultural and linguistic basis of the languages. It also aims to develop specific skills that are essential for a linguistic mediator. Professionals in this area will work as specialised translators or interpreters in Fashion, with a good knowledge of the economic and marketing implications.

The course analyses the Fashion phenomenon as a complex “system” that is made up of socio-economic, productive and cultural aspects, but also provides a specific, structural, relational and competitive context that has currently been made dynamic by the influence of technological and scientific progress and by the “globalist” evolution of markets and consumers.

International business

This three-year International business degree aims at providing students with specific notions in various topics such as Economics, Law and Business Management, as well as a strong cultural and linguistic basis of the languages. It also develops the specific skills, fundamental for a linguistic mediator.

Professionals in this area will work as specialised translators or interpreters in international scenarios and in legal and economic contexts. The course analyses the general problems of economic systems and the aspects related to international financial and economic relations in order to provide the essential macroeconomic tools to understand the mechanism of markets and companies.

Finally, the course also provides a general framework of business activities and functions. Moreover, it analyses the principles of the company structure and the relations between the economic and financial aspects of management.

INTERNATIONAL

ERASMUS+ PROGRAMME

The SSML of Padua participates in the Erasmus+ Programme of the Lifelong Learning Programme (LLP), which promotes the strengthening of the European dimension of training, international mobility and cooperation among high school institutes.

On March 22nd, 2014, the European Commission awarded the SSML of Padua the Erasmus Charter for Higher Education (ECHE) for the 2014-2020 period, a prerequisite for participation in the Erasmus+ programme.

Over the years, the SSML of Padua has enhanced and increased the relationships with foreign bodies, in order to promote mobility of students and of their educational staff for the purpose of study and traineeship.

INTERNATIONAL MOBILITIES

The SSML encourages the cooperation and the establishment of contacts with Universities all over the world within the framework of scientific research and education activities. The cooperation will mainly concern the improvement of academic, cultural and scientific relationships, as well as the organisation of periods of research and/or teaching for professors, researchers, students and technical-administrative staff belonging to the Universities involved. The duration of these periods shall be established case by case and their field of action shall concern research and education activities in areas of mutual interest.

DEADLINES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

LANGUAGES OF INSTRUCTION

In general, courses are delivered in Italian although many of them are offered in English, German, Spanish and Russian.

Language level recommended for incoming students: Italian B1 or English, German, Spanish or Russian B1 for students following courses taught respectively in English, German, Spanish or Russian.

Language level recommended for incoming teachers or staff: B2

This level is established according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and no certification is required.

GRADING SYSTEM AND TRANSCRIPT OF RECORDS

Local grade	Grade in words	Interpretation of grades
30 cum laude	Excellent	An excellent result
30-27	Very good	A result that is noticeable above the average
26-24	Good	A result that meets the average requirements
23-21	Satisfactory	A result that meets low requirements
20-18	Sufficient	A result that meets minimum requirements despite deficits
<18	Insufficient	A result that does not meet the requirements because of considerable deficits

A transcript of records will be issued and sent to the students after the assessment period/semester has finished at our institution.

CFU RECOGNITION

The SSML ensures full recognition of the CFUs acquired during the mobility abroad. As far as study mobilities are concerned, the exams carried out abroad will replace the exams contained in the student's study plan as agreed in the learning agreement and will be appropriately recorded in the student's booklet. In the case of mobility for traineeships, these are equivalent to the internship provided for in the study plan of each student, therefore at the end of the mobility the 5 ECTS foreseen will be recognized automatically.

The recognition takes place automatically, i.e. without the student having to request it: upon receipt of the Transcript of records, the appropriate conversions will be made according to the conversion tables made public on the site, and the resulting marks will be recorded in the student's booklet by the Teaching director. The 5 CFU relating to the traineeship will also be recognized automatically upon receipt of the certified traineeship.
